Re: Loughman v. Mahoney, et al. U.S. District Court Case 1:04-cv-12316

Dear Ms. Smith:

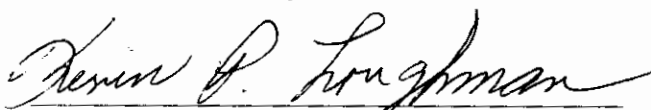

Please thank Judge Young for the seven-day extension for reply to Motion to Dismiss, occasioned by my absence from the U. S. from September 7-14, 2005. Thanks also to Opposing Counsel David Wilson for his courtesy in not opposing this necessary, albeit brief delay.

I am now up-and-running with the PACER System, so I should, henceforward, be independent upon direct contact with the Court for status reports and up-dates from the Court's Docket.

Please find enclosed Opposing Counsel's "Return-of-Service Waivers" for the Defendant's in this case, copies of which were sent to me last week. The original return of service, was, indeed made, but owing to mislabeling by Robinson & Cole, these papers (sent late March) were misfiled in the papers for a related case in Middlesex County Superior Court. I believe that I have not been prejudiced by this error; Counselor Wilson has promptly followed up with a second mailing (also mislabeled), and I have been alert enough to catch the error in time around. Last March, I needed to have assistance with my mail, and, I think that is the source of the misfiling error. Counselor Wilson has also filed his Response to my Complaint, and my Answer to his Response is now due on September 30, 2005. What could be more clear, fair and efficient?

Thanks, again, for your assistance and patience. I do appreciate how bustling and busy your phone and office must be.

Yours most sincerely,

Kevin P. Loughman, Plaintiff, Pro-Se, September 26, 2005

CC: Attorney David Bliss Wilson, Robinson & Cole
